EVANGELION

*I wrote
that
in an essay
for school...*

*I've never had any
cherished
dreams or ambitions.*

*I don't aspire
to any career or profession
in the future.*

*...and,
predictably,
the teacher
yelled at me...and told me to take the assignment
seriously.*

*That's why I've never really cared whether I got into an accident or something
and died.*

*So far, in the first
fourteen
years of
my life,
things have
always happened as they had to happen. And things will probably continue
in the same way.*

AFTERWORD

Coming seven years after the publication of ALPHA, my previous collection of illustrations, Der Mond focuses upon Evangelion. Although Eva has become one of my representative works, looking back at it, I feel that I did not develop any new methods or approaches to rendering a subject, and that I remained at a technical standstill.

I am not happy with remaining in the same place and I am not satisfied with the drawings of my present self. The illustrations collected in this book are part of a transitional period, and I think I would like to go in a completely different direction.

When an artist follows his own style too closely, often times, he hardens up and stagnates. But I feel that it is still too early for this to happen to me. That's why I would like to tread paths to new and stimulating drawings and why I want to try out various methods.

For those that are interested, please watch what I do in the future.

Yoshiyuki Sadamoto
1999

P.S. from the editor: Some of Mr. Sadamoto's most recent work can be seen in his character designs for the much buzzed-about new Gainax OAV (direct-to-video) series FLCL, a.k.a. "Furi-Kuri." Look for it to be released in English from Digital Manga (www.emanga.com) December 2001!
